

TECHNOLOGY, CULTURE, AND POWER SPEAKER SERIES

2025 - 2026
PROGRAM

The Technology, Culture, and Power Speaker Series is a monthly gathering that explores critical insights on the intersections and implications of technology and society. A thought-provoking forum on the Stanford campus featuring leading experts and scholars examining the interactions of digital technologies, culture, and inequality.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 2025

5pm-6:30pm

LUCY SUCHMAN

Lancaster University

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 12, 2025

5pm-6:30pm

COURTNEY COX

University of Oregon

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 2025

5pm-6:30pm

SHANNON MATTERN

Metropolitan New York Library Council

THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 2026

5pm-6:30pm

LYNN SPIGEL

Northwestern University

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2026

5pm-6:30pm

DANIEL KREISS

University of North Carolina

THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 2026

5pm-6:30pm

JOHN DURHAM PETERS

Yale University

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 2026

5pm-6:30pm

ELENA MARIS

University of Illinois Chicago

THURSDAY, MAY 7, 2026

5pm-6:30pm

STEVEN EPSTEIN

Northwestern University

Made possible with support from the Humanities Seed Grant from Stanford Public Humanities.

Stanford | Public Humanities
SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES AND SCIENCES

Stanford PACS
Center on Philanthropy
and Civil Society

